Guest Presenter: Wilbur Sargunraj, the “Simple Superstar”

Biography: Wilbur Sargunraj, Speaker, Musician, and Advanced Certified Cultural Intelligence Facilitator. He spreads message encouraging each student to do what they can to make the world a kinder place where we no longer tolerate what is different from ourselves, but we embrace difference with curiosity and appreciation for people who are not exactly like “us”. He uses his own personal gift and talents with music to educate and to teach his worldly wisdom about compassion and empathy towards others. Wilbur will take you on a musical journey across the globe and right into your heart where you will realize a better world starts with you.

Program Theme/Message: Hunger is a global problem that is best tackled by local grassroots efforts and supported by a determined International will; children of food-challenged families are the truest victims, and a special focus must be given to our children—our keiki! In the context of world hunger, celebrate our differences and embrace the learning of cultures so we can successfully combat world hunger together with our newfound, global friends. Inspire children to help people and do their part to fight hunger.

Secondary objective (to ask school principal):

Music Video (Cultural Intelligence): Involving kids in a music video. Kids who dance Hula that would be great. We are looking for 3 -4 dancers and 1 slack key guitar player. (All Kids)
